

Data privacy statement

The protection of your personal data when you visit our website is a top priority for us. The following information explains which data is collected, stored and used, and in which way. Of course, the collection, processing, and use of your data will comply with applicable laws of Taiwan R.O.C.

Collection and processing of data

A log is created each time our website is accessed and each time a stored file is retrieved. Logging only serves internal system-related and statistic purposes to improve our range of products - you will remain anonymous as a user. Logged data includes: name of retrieved file, date and time of retrieval, transferred data volume, report of successful retrieval, web browser and requesting domain. In addition, the IP addresses of requesting computers are logged. For this purpose, Maxhealth Corporation uses the "StatCounter" tracking tool.

Collection and processing of personal data, forwarding

Personal data is only logged if you voluntarily provide these details. In so far as you provide your personal data we only use this data to answer your questions, to fulfill agreements we have entered into with you and for technical administration. Your personal data is only forwarded to third parties or otherwise transmitted if this is necessary for the fulfillment of our contract with you, particularly for registration and traceability of provided information, or with your prior consent.

Revocation of your consent

You can at any time revoke your consent regarding the use of your personal data and request deletion of any voluntary data that has been collected and stored with your consent. The stored data will be deleted when it is no longer necessary for the purpose it has been stored for or if its storage is forbidden for other legal reasons. Otherwise, your stored personal data will be deleted once you revoke your consent for its storage.

Cookies

So-called cookies are stored on your computer regarding the individual session. They ensure you are recognized each time you re-access the website. To this end, your personal information in the form of your user ID, which the website can access during your next visit, is stored as well as anonymised information on your use of our website. This is done to ensure your navigation is as comfortable as possible. If you do not want this, please set your web browser to delete cookies from your hard drive, to block all cookies or to warn you every time a cookie is to be stored.

Your right to information

Upon your written request we will be pleased to inform you of the data we have stored about you (e.g. name, address, phone number, email).
